A photograph of two young girls outdoors, likely in a park or garden. The girl on the left has long dark hair and is wearing a pink and white striped sweater with a white fur collar. She is whispering into the ear of the girl on the right. The girl on the right has long blonde hair, blue eyes, and is wearing a black headband and a bright orange sweater. She is also whispering to someone off-camera. Both girls have their hands over their mouths, suggesting they are sharing a secret. The background shows trees with green and yellowing leaves, indicating an autumn setting.
